VIV·A·CIOUS
Hair & Beauty

WEBSITE PROPOSAL · JULY 2026

Your salon, online.
Exactly as you described it.

"It's like you're sitting at home, but you know what's happening in our salon."

Prepared for Viv-a-cious Hair & Beauty · 34 Beachway Place, Durban North
All screens in this document are from a live, working build — not mock-ups.

FROM OUR CONVERSATION

What you asked for

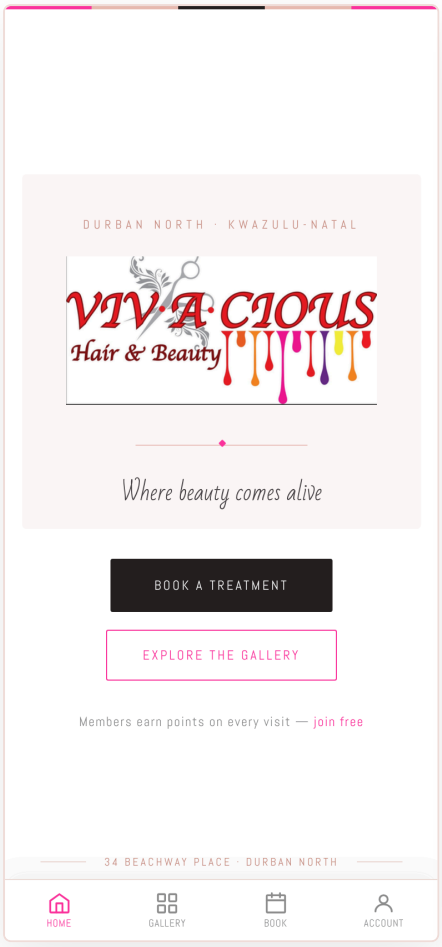

Everything below comes straight from our meeting. Nothing extra, nothing missing — and no app-store costs: it's a website that works beautifully on any phone, tablet or laptop.

YOU SAID	WHAT WE BUILT
"Without coming here, you must know what we are offering."	✓ Full treatment menu with prices, browsable by anyone — no account needed.
"Clients will want to talk to their nail technician… who is available."	✓ Your team with names, photos and specialities; clients choose their person when booking.
"Keep updating the reviews and client pictures so it stays fresh… controlled by us."	✓ A gallery + reviews you upload from the admin side, with a client-permission tick box. Clients cannot upload.
"See my points… redeem on the website… it gives you a voucher code."	✓ Members log in, see their balance, and turn points into a Rand-value voucher code to show at the till.
"I don't think we want them to pay online."	✓ No payment gateway anywhere. Booking is free; payment stays in-salon.
"Suggestions based on points — you could buy this nail polish…"	✓ A "Treat Yourself" strip that shows retail products your points could cover.
"A button where you can volunteer to be a mystery shopper… staff must not know."	✓ A dedicated Mystery Shopper programme: email-verified entry, one entry per person, identities visible to the owner only.
"Hey, I haven't seen you in a while…"	✓ Automatic "we've missed you" emails, plus one-click campaigns to opted-in clients (e.g. an Easter special).
"It will be the same website… like a polo in different colours."	✓ One platform, restyled per brand, each salon with its own private database and logins.

Points rates, voucher values and mystery-shopper rewards shown in this document are working examples — you decide the real numbers and we key them in.

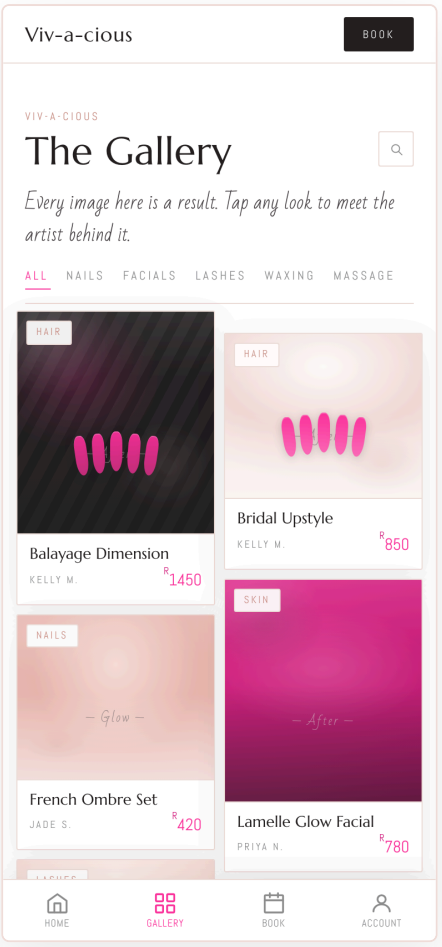

A first impression that feels like your salon

Styled on your existing brand — your logo, your colours, light and feminine, with the paint-drip accent carried through.

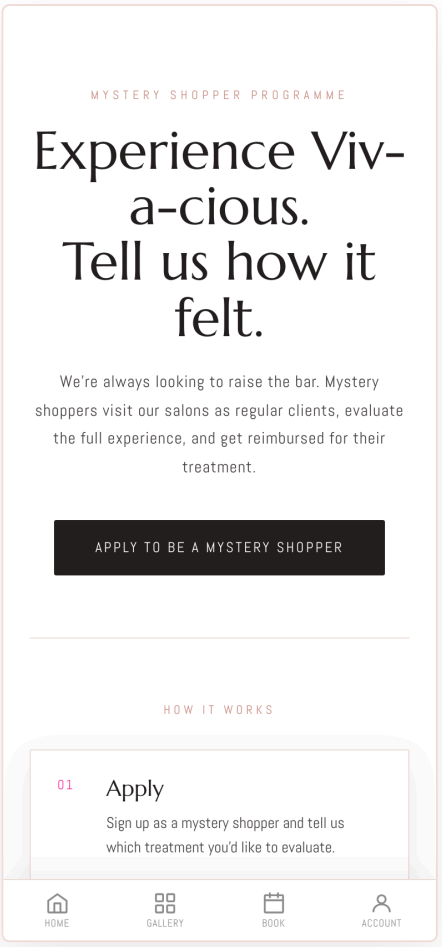

Home

Book or browse in one tap

The Gallery

Your work, your team's names, kept fresh by you

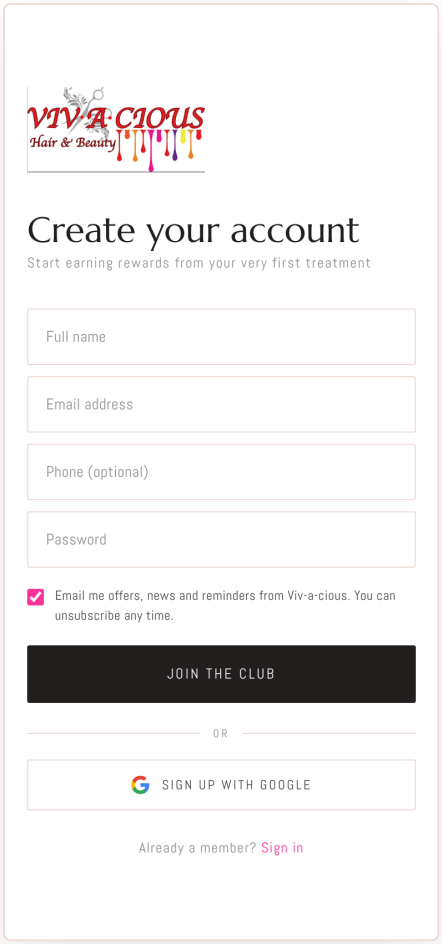

Mystery Shopper

The programme entry point

ACCOUNTS & LOYALTY

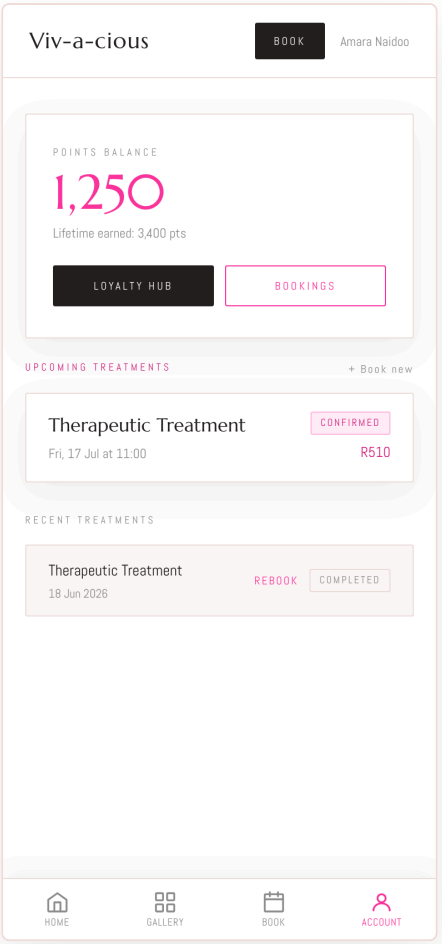

Join free, earn on every visit

Clients sign up with their email (Google sign-in can be switched on too). Points are earned automatically when a treatment is completed — at the rate you choose.

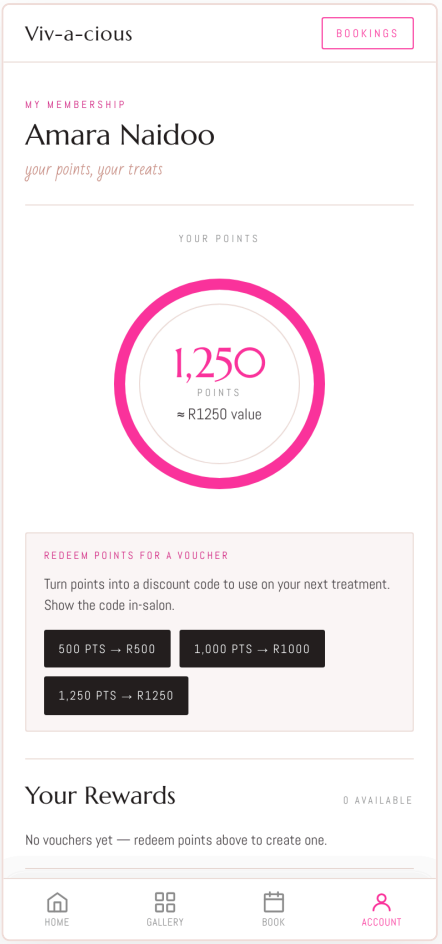

Sign up

Email or Google, with a newsletter opt-in

My account

Points, upcoming & past treatments

Loyalty hub

Points → Rand-value voucher codes

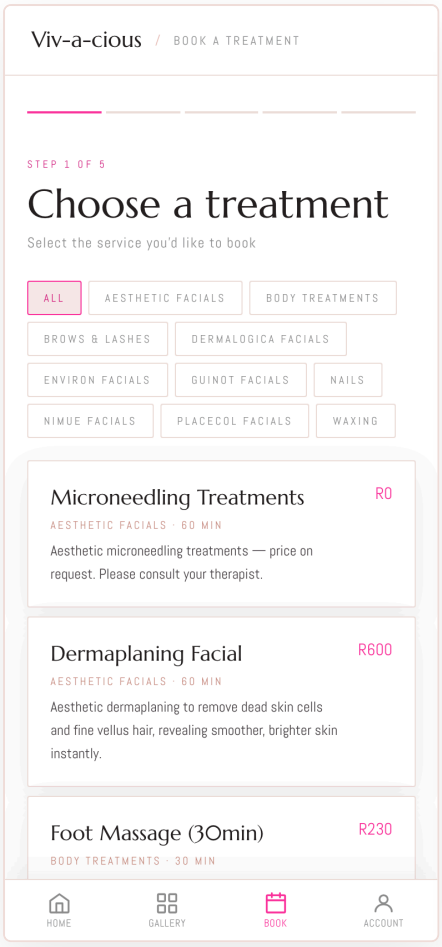

HOW REDEMPTION WORKS AT THE TILL

1 · The client taps "Redeem" and picks a value (e.g. 500 pts → R500 off). 2 · The site issues a one-time code like VIV-7KF9-QM3X. 3 · They show it in-salon; you type it into the admin Vouchers page, which confirms it's valid and marks it used. No cash online, ever — and a code can never be used twice.

BOOKINGS

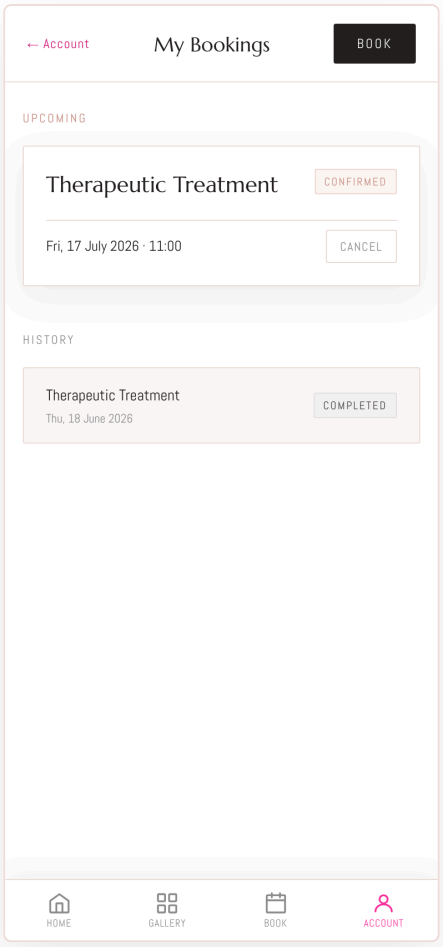

Treatment, therapist, time — done

A guided booking flow: pick the treatment, pick your person, pick a slot. You confirm from the admin side; nothing is paid online.

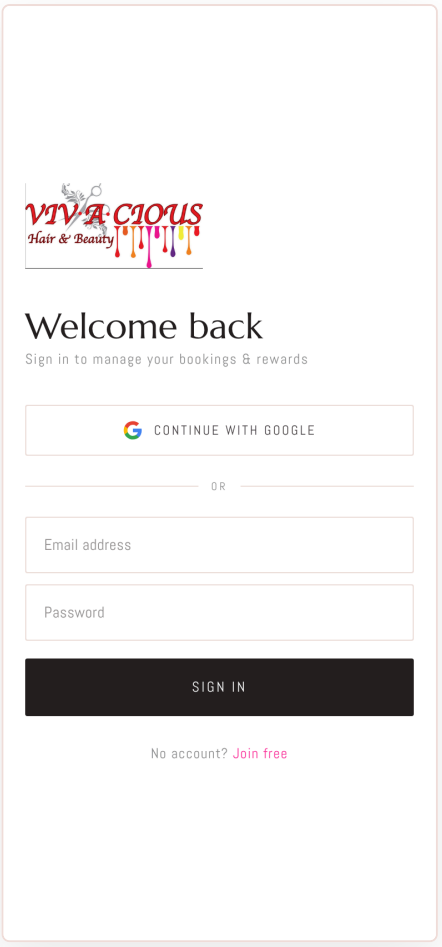

Choose a treatment

Your full menu with prices

My bookings

Upcoming & history, self-service cancel

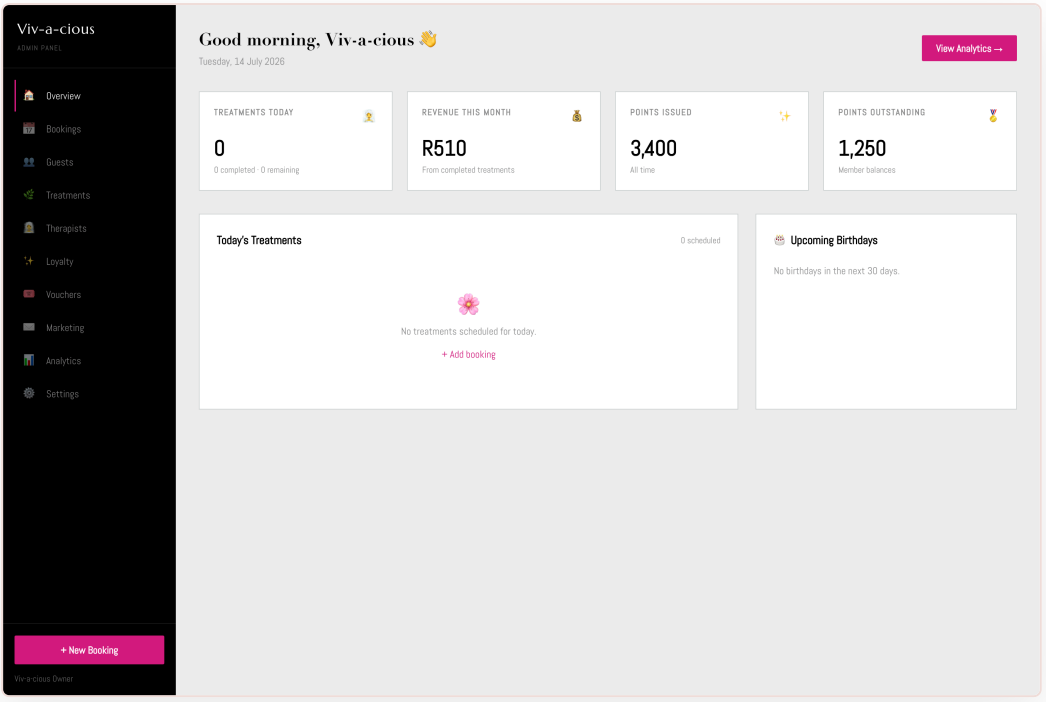

Welcome back

Simple sign-in for members

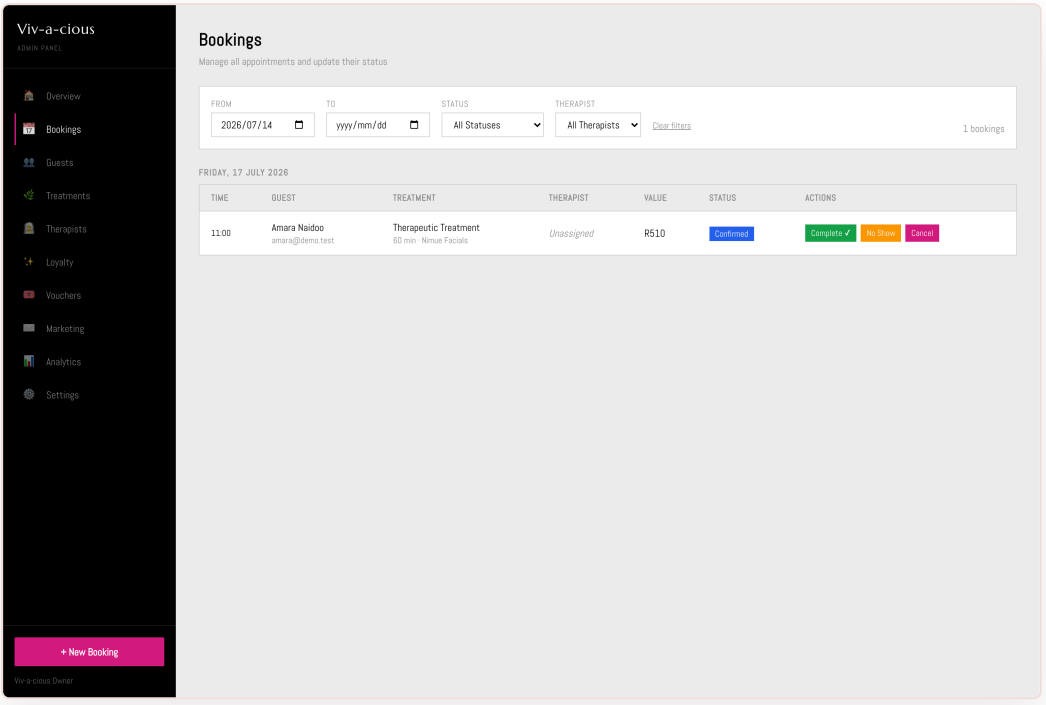

An admin panel that runs the day

Everything is controlled by you and your team from a private dashboard — bookings, guests, points, the gallery, reviews and emails.

Overview

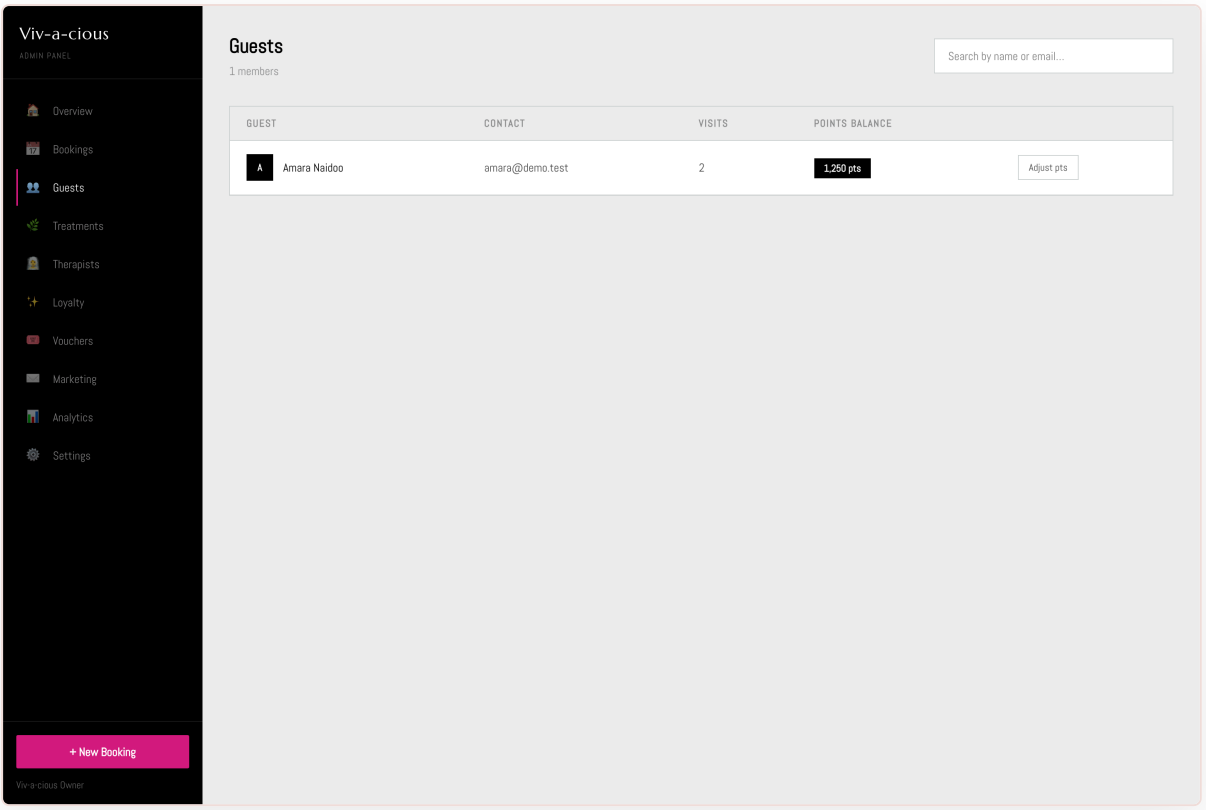

Today's treatments, revenue, points issued, upcoming birthdays

Bookings

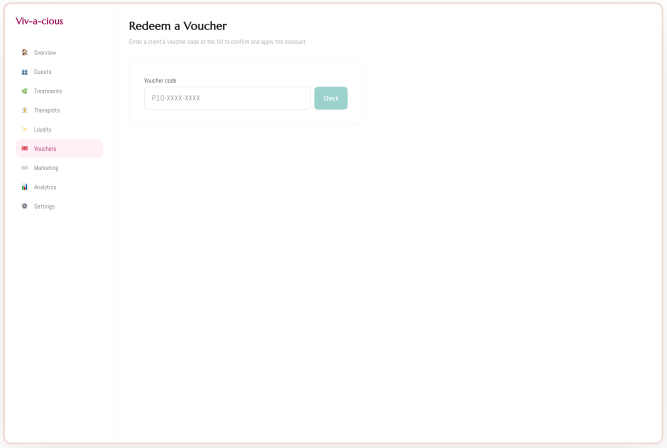

Confirm, complete or cancel — completing a visit credits the client's points automatically, once

Guests, vouchers & marketing

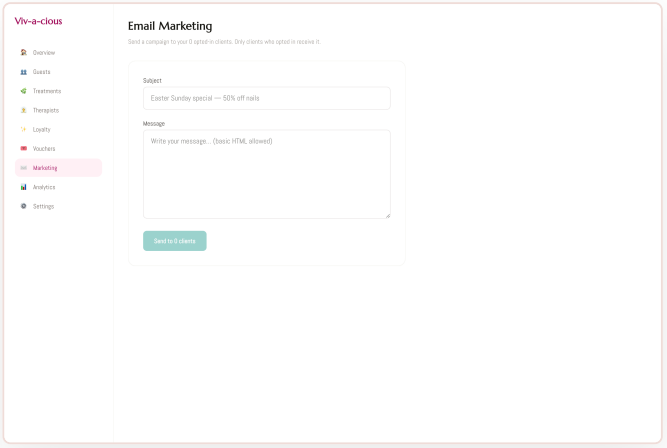

Guests

Every member with visits and points balance — adjust points when needed

Vouchers

Type in a code at the till to validate & redeem

Marketing

Email campaigns to opted-in clients; win-back emails send themselves

Mystery Shopper, abuse-proof

Built exactly around the rules from our conversation:

01 Anyone can enter — once

Entry requires a real email address, verified with a one-time code. One entry per person; repeat attempts and code-guessing are blocked automatically.

02 Staff never know

Entrant identities are visible to the owner login only. Your team sees nothing, so the review stays honest.

03 Consent up front

Before entering, shoppers agree to leave an honest review and to their photo being shared internally afterwards — the permission you asked for, recorded.

04 Visit, review, reimburse

The chosen shopper books like a normal client, submits their scored review through the site, and you reimburse the treatment from the admin page.

05 A cooling-off period

Once chosen, a shopper can't be picked again for the next few months — variety guaranteed, and the reward value (e.g. 50% off) is set by you.

GETTING TO LAUNCH

What happens next

From you

Photos — real salon and client photos (with permission) for the gallery; I'll send dimensions. · The numbers — points per Rand spent, voucher values, and the mystery-shopper reward. · Your treatment list — final menu and prices to load. · A domain name — your web address (typically ~R100–R300/year); I'll guide the purchase, it's registered in your name.

From me

Loading your content, secure hosting setup, email sending (newsletters + automatic win-backs), and polish rounds based on your feedback — you'll get clickable previews at every step, and we bold up whatever you don't love.

Timeline

Working now → your content loaded and previews shared through August → first version live by end of August, then we refine together. If the website is well received, we can revisit a native app later with real usage behind the decision.

WHY WEBSITE FIRST (AS DISCUSSED)

No app-store subscriptions or review queues, works on iPhone, Android, tablets and laptops from day one, updates are instant, and it's the low-risk way to prove the idea before investing in a native app. Same look, same features — just a web address instead of a download.

Where beauty comes alive — now online.